

Notes from the APNA meeting of March 13, 2012

Ricardo Moran, outreach coordinator for The Red Cross, gave a brief statement regarding neighborhood canvassing on the issue of fire prevention. He handed out a flyer about Cesar Chavez Day.

Evie Kosower provided an update on the design committee for the Neighborhood Identification Project: "in the works" are ideas for the creation of further clay tiles creation, issues regarding the design development, tiles installation, needing a meeting with the engineer and cost factors with regard to the structures at the intersection.

Officer Rene Murillo spoke of recent criminal activity in Azalea Park and elsewhere in near-by City Heights including a stabbing, firearm discharge, a near-by PCP drug bust and a propane tank theft at the General Market.

Jade Huynh spoke about possible help being available for those experiencing home foreclosure including short-sales as an option. He spoke of possible resources that may be available and handed out a business card.

Linda Pennington announced some upcoming events for which more information will be provided in future Parkster Newsletters.

Deanneka Goodwin, of Susan Davis' office, handed out an informational flyer.

Joni Craig announced that the Occupy Movement grows and referred to the Occupy City Heights branch of same.

Jaime Chavez announced the upcoming Latino Film Festival.

Submitted by Bob Walters, APNA secretary